

Sinclair
Broadcasting's
decision to force
their stations to air an anti-Kerry
documentary days
before the election
is a clear example
of the dangers of media consolidation.

The documentary was made by a partisan filmmaker. The purpose of this
airing is to smear
John Kerry's
reputation and to make sure that President Bush will get re-elected. It is not the way that the media should be.
The Media should maintain their neutrality not
bias.

Sinclair's actions
show why we need to strengthen media
ownership rules.
